The Remington Typewriter

PERPETUAL PIONEER

The No. 10 and No. 11 Visible Remington Models are the latest expressions of Remington leadership. They represent the sum total or all typewriter achievement-past and present.

They contain every merit that the Remington has always had, and every merit that any writing machine has ever had.

They contain, in addition, new and fundamental improvements that no typewriter has ever had; among them the first column selector, the first built-in tabulator and the first key-set tabulator. These improvements are the latest contributions to typewriter progress, and they are Remington contributions every one.

The Remington, the original pioneer in the typewriter field, is the present day pioneer in all new developments of the writing machine.

THE SHANGHAI DIVORCE CASE.

Barnard called Mr. Alexander Campbell, manager of the Sussex Hotel, Easthourne, who stated that on December 10, 1910," s lady registered there as " Mrs. Gregory." He identified respondent in court (wearing red curnations) as "the "Mrs. Gregory." She stayed till December 30. She drank to excess and treated men and women in the public bar. Mr. Monerieff, the co-respondent, stayed at the hotel from December him her room. Asked why she did this, 10 to 16, occupying a room which adjoined Mrs. Howell said she thought Moncrick Mrs. Hanson's.

Mrs Ada Moncrieff said she was the wife of one of the co-respondents. They were married in | April, 1999. In consequence of information she received, witness went to her husband's office on

CHAMBERLAIN'S Cough Remedy is his productions. The title role is in the not only a certain cure for croup, but hands of Fracien Gertrud Eysoldt. It will prevent the attack when freely given | Kalaf is played by Horr Alexander Moissi as soon as the first symptoms appear. In who created the role of the bliefs of many the state of homes it is kept con- in "Sumurun." There are three comedy stantly at hand ready for instant use as roles, the Lord Chamberlain, the Chamdoon so the croupy cough is heard. There celler of the Emperer of China, and the is no danger in giving it to young children head ennuch of the Imperial harem. The as it contains no opium or other injurious | latter, token by Herr, Hans Wassmannauthorable. For rale lived Chumists and the German G. P. Huntley-is one of the certain names indicated, Mr Moncrieff anid they noted days when she took a drink between meels. (Laughter.) Answering Mr. Barnard, the witness admitted that some of the charges of misconduct made against him by his wife were true. In the diary there was a cross against the name of a lady named "Maud," and the witness admitted misconduct with her. He also admitted using a room at a house in Charing Cross road.—Was that room kept by you and your friend for the purpose of taking girls there? No.—Was this girl? I have referred to the only girl you took there? I don't think so.—For an immoral purpose ? Yes, for an immoral purpose. Mr. Barnard read one of the letters Mrs. Moncrieff found at the witness's office from a lady at Grimsby, saying : "I am dying to see you.". Well, by-bye. Lots of love." Another letter to him said : "Am avill thinking of you. I have been simply longing to see, y u." The Witness: You do not suggest there is any misconduct in that, Mr. Barnard I. Mr. Barnard said that he suggested it was not the kind of correspondence into which the witness, passing as a respectable man, should have entered int . To the witness : It ok at this letter signed "Vers and Vi." Was that written to you? I never replied to it. The letter so sluned commenced: "Dear old Sick in the Mud," and suggested he should take them out to dinner. "But we never met after that," remarked Mr. Moneriof. Mr. Ramard said that

- JUDGMENT. Mr. Emery, for the respondent, and Mr. Harold Smith, for Mr. Monerieff, having addressed the Court, Mr. Justice Bucknill

His Lordship said Mr. Hanson had been generous, affectionate, and long-suffering husband. He married the respondent when she was not nineteen years of age, and when she had been leading an immoral life. Mr. Hanson did his best to have her properly educated, in the hope that in the course of time he might introduce her to his circle of friends. His Lordship found that Mrs. Hanson and Mr Monerioff committed misconduct at Eastbourne and at the flat. He believed, he said. the evidence of the maid, Lucy Clay, as to what she saw on the two nights. As regarded the co-respondent Atkins, the judge came to the conclusion that he had committed misconduct with the respondent at the flat, and there would be a decree nisi, with costs, granted to Mr Hanson. Mr Bernard : I may just say, my lord, that this morning we received information with regard to the life that the respondent is leading as the present time, and this would have left no doubt in the mind of Mr Justice Bucknill: That is gratifying

"TURANDOT.

-A Chinese Extravaganza

"Writing to the Observer from Berling under date of December 12, a correspondent said:-One of the reigning successes of the dramatic season in Berlin is Herr Max Reinhardt's "Turandot," a "Chinese fairytale play" at the Deutsches Theatre. "Turandot" is the work of an old Italian writer named Carlo Gozzi. Germany's own Schiller revived and revised the Gozzi version early in the nineteenth century. but the adaptation now delighting audiences at the Doutsches Theatre is the creation of a contemp rary German playwright, Herr Kerl Vollmoeller, with charming incidental music. In reviving "Turandot" Herr Rein. hardt, one imagines, has been inspired by the triumph of his own "Sumurun," for "iurandot" la set in the same Oriental atmosphere. Unlike the latter, however, "Turandot" is a play with words, though it, too, is obviously capable of pantomimic Turandot, Princess of China, is the only child and heir to the throne of her mighty father, the Emperor Altoum. To all who sock here and she propounds three riddles; and the Prince who can solve them she promises her love. Those who fail are 1448 | behended.

> The play opens with the introduction of a suitor, the Prince of Samarkand. A moment later the death march is heard, and the Prince's head is presently hanging from s pole on the parapet of Turandot's palace. where already many other heads of suitor? have been placed. Ismael, the Prince of Samarkand's Lord Chamberlain, tramples in the dust the picture of Turandot, which had enticed his master to his doom. The picture is picked up by Karaf, Prince of Astrakhan, a soldier of fortune. He succumbs to the lure. The action is then shifted to Turandot's throne room. Kalaf is ready for the test. Turandot propounds her riddles. These are answered. Turandot still declines to 680 | yield, but the King, her father, decrees that the stranger shall become his daughter's husband.

The Prince proclaims his readiness to give her a chauce of evading the decree. He declared that if Turandot succeeds within the next twenty-four hours in divining the names of himself and his father he will to European officials and merchants in this renounce his rights to her hand and go to Colony for over ten years. the block. Failing in this, she is to become his wife. Turandot accepts the conditions. by a ruse in extorting the fatal facts from Kalaf, and promptly communicates them to her mistress.

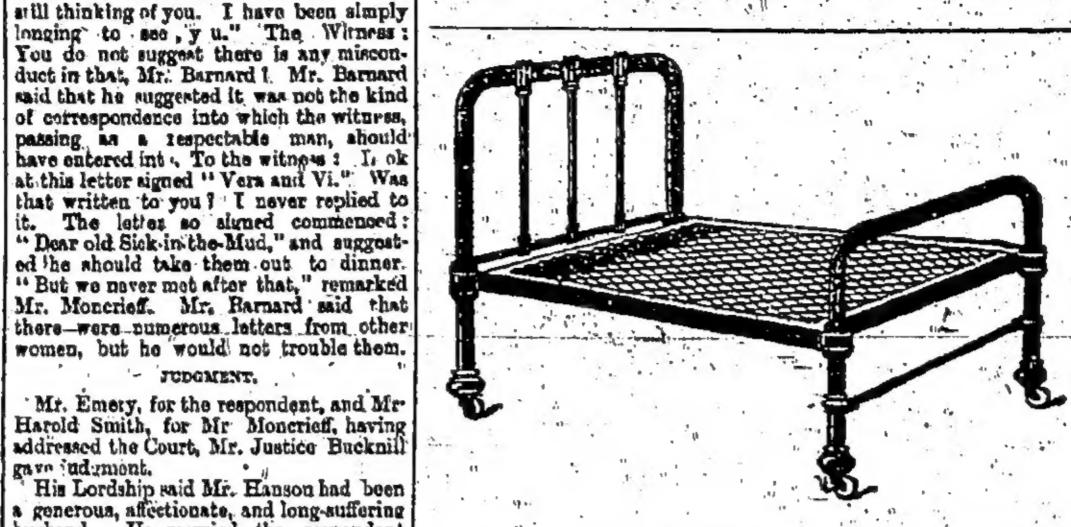

The next day the Court again, seembles in the throne room. Turandot calls out, " Kalaf, son of Timer | " Prince Kalaf admits his defeat. Drawing a dagger from his girdle, he rashes to the foot of Turandot's throne, and declares that her desire for his blood shall be satisfied then and 499 there. As he is about to stab kimsel Turandot steps from her throne and thow herself into Kalafa arms.

Horr Reinhardt bas staged "Turandot, with the lavishness which characterises al particular delights of this play.

PRAISE FOR THE WAVY'S NEW BROOM. is coming in for praise from unexpected quarters. For instance Mr Arnold Ward in reviewing the naval changes says, "Mr Churchill has begun with a courageous atroke of the pen. Lord Selborne scrapped stables on the make. It was impossible Dispensary, at present occupied by Mossir the gunboats that could neither light nor ity. Mr. Churchill has scrapped vice-strong evidence. The Jockey Club should take that take the matter up at They dight to have Hongkong, August leaves the Navy agasp. The result of the a confidential inquiry, when further action wholesale scrapping of admirals and viceadmirals at least ensures the reversal of a family, political influence, or sentiment. "The appointment of Sir George

Callaghan to be Commander-in-Chief of Percy Scott (of gunnery fame) and Admiral Sir A. Milne have little chance of further less as a tencher of gunnery and a remarkable administrator of lower deck routine: The appointment of the new Commanderin-Chief settles the prospects of Admirals Lambton, Sir George Neville, Sir Alfred Winsloo, Sir George Egerton, Sir Charles Adair, Sir Frederick Fisher and Charles Cross. The appointment of Sir John Jellicoo as second, id command of the Homo Fleet shelves Admirals Goodri h Inglefield, Paget, Lowry, Jackson, Colville. Farquhar, Fisher and Simons Herod among the children made no more dashing slapghter than Mr. Churchill among the vice-admirals... " From the public prints I observe that the Silent Man who created the modern mayy has twice visited England with the miselessness of an owl, and has been seen in the society of Mr. Churchill. Ruthless, relentless, remorseless in the interests of the country, Admiralty policy is thus far unchanged from the time when Fisher was at the belm. Another coup of Mr. Chur chill's is the appointment of Prince Louis of Battenberg and of Captain-Pakenbam, O. B. as Second and Fourth Sea Lords respectively. For years past Prince Louis of Battenberg has been pursued with rancorous hostility by a acction London society. Thave myself been inyited to lake a land in the game of hound ing down Prince Louis on the ground of his German birth being incompatible with the honourable discharge of his daty as a British officer .- Prince Louis of Battenberg la one of the willest officers in the Navy. : As M. Waddington was more French than the French, so Prince Lou's of Battenberg is more English than the English. Many admirals tell me he is the ablest officer in the Navy. His tactical skill is of the kind which makes men broathe hard whon they see it. He is liked by his subordinates, and he will make the best possible First Sea Lord in course of time. I rince Louis handling of the lower deck may create history. I affirm that Mr Churchill's ap pointmout, of Prince Louis of Bottenberg has strengthened the Admiralty, and form my own opinion of Prince Louis "The appointment of Captain Pakenham, without hims or influence. C.B., is a tardy recognition of services rondored to the British people which hitherto have nover met with dup 'ree gnition."

TURF " SCANDALA." Lord Villers, representing the Jooker Club, and Mr E. Hulton, winner of the Gimerack Stakes at the last autumn meet ing, were the pri cipal guots at the han dred and forty-lifth annual dinner at bid York Gimerack Club last night. In ropfylin to his health Mr Hulton spoke of the tope and conduct of the Titri as never haring been at a higher level than now. There was, howover, and imploisant feature in comicotion with thought day; the undercurrent of scandal for with in nine cases out of ten, there was not the slightest justification. History is been was not trying or such elected pulled harde and the like When Gut bort of thing camb from irresponsible people he supposed there was nothing to be done, but when it came from these who ought to know better, who were not men of straw, who circulated statements they had not taken the trouble to inquire about, then, he thought, the Jockey Club could, and should, deal with it. No Mr Winston Churchill at the Admiralty one wanted an inquiry every five minutes but if by that moans such venemous talk could be stopped, those most concerned would welcome inquiry. One writer had written that "There has seemed good reason of late to suspect the existence of he friendly understanding between various could be taken if found necessary." Denying vigorously the off-repeated assertion that bett ng.was one-of the chief practice from which England has suffered causes of crime, Mr Hulton proceeded to ime and again during the old wars. In | scoff at modern "protection" for the former days we always went into wars with citizen, "Save us from so much protecti n, from so much spoon food," he cried, old admirals and came out of them with We may not box too vigorously nowadays young admirals. Mr Churchill is appar- lest we should do one another serious ently determined to place the best men in shielded from every temptation like chicks the front place irrespective of seniority, under a fussy old hen, and what sort of men are we going to get as a result A former Archbishop of York, Archbishop M'Gee, wisely said Better England free than England sober. Englishmen selfthe Home Fleet means that Admiral Sir controlled and self-reliant must be a better race than the spoon fed article. Let racing he kept clean, let people of every class feel they can take part in it in comemployment affeat. Sir Percy is match- fort and decency. Let people realise that betting is an amusement, and not a get-rich quick business, and racing will hourish and benefit the nation.

> industrial development of the Sudan. It is almost impossible to exaggerate the importance of the work which is being accomplished by the distinguished group of scientific men associated with or under the leadership of Dr. Andrew Balfour, for the thorough examination of the conditions of tropical life, as they present themselves in men, animala, plants and insects, is the task to which 'this great' institution is substances of practical interest in-facts, observations and discoveries brought to light during the last few years. Unlike the commentaries and digests expert on all international and naval sub which are so familiar a feature of the scientific press, these volumes Kota Bahru, Kelantan, contain the actual record at first hand of new contributions to the solution of problems of deep, and world-wide import. Their value is further enhanced by the superb manner in which the knowledge, so laboriously gained, has been presented and illustrated. The expansion of the work of the Inhoratories and the amount of new material collected during the last few years have rendered it impossible to issue the fourth report in one volume, and the subject matter has therefore been divided into two parts. The first part (Volume A), Every description of Banking and Ex. now issued, deals with the medical aspects change business transacted, and Stocks of the work of research. Volume B, which and Shares bought and sold on account of relates to general science, is in the press constituents. Letters of Credit granted on and will be issued shortly. CHINA TO THE POWERS.

The following manifesto is i-sued by the lenders of the Provisional Republican Government in China

TO ALL PRIENDLY NATIONS. Greeting-The hitherto irremediable suppression of the individual qualities and pational aspirations of the people having arrested the intellectual, the moral, and the material development of China, the nid of revolution has been invoked to extirpate the primary duse, and we now proclaim the resultant overthrow of the desputie sway wielded by the Manchu Dynasty and the establishment of a Republic. The substitution of a Republic for a Monarchical form of Government is not the fruit of a transient passion. It is the natural outcome of a long cherished desire for broad-based freedom making for permanent contentment and uninterrupted advancement. It is the formal declaration of the will of the Chinese nation.

We, the Chinese people, are peaceful and law-abiding. We here waged no war except in self defence. We have borne our griavances during 267 years tenrance. We have by penceful mouns our liberty, and ensure one progress, but we have failed. Oppressed beyond humain endurance we deemed it our indiemable right as our sacred duty to appeal to arms to deliver ourselves and our posterity from the yoke to which we have do long been subjected, and for the first time in our Mr Forrest's sub. othere-quarters last history ing'or ous bondage has been transformed into impiging freedom splendid with the lastrous light of opportunity.

The policy of the Manchu dynasty has been one of un quivocal seclusion and unyielding lymnny. Be eath it we have bitterly suffered, and we now submit to the free peoples of the world the reasons justifying the revolution and the manguration of our present government.

PROM LIGHT TO DARKNESS." Prior to the usurpation of the Throne by the Manchu, the land was open to foreign intercourse and religious tolerance existed, as is evidenced by the writings of Marco Polo and the inscription on the Nestorian tablet of Sianfu.

Dominated by is norance and selfishness the anchus closed atha hand to the onter world and plunged the Chinese people into a state of benighted mentality calculated to operate inversely to their natural talent and capabilities thus committing a crime against human to and the civilized nations

Actuated by a desi a for the perpetual subjugation of the Chinese, by a vicious cinying for eggentidisement and wealth, the Manchus governess the country to the lasting injury and detriment of our people, 'creata g' priviléges and a ocopolies sa erecting about themselves butriers exclusion in outlonal custom and personal conduct which have been rigorously mainmined the aigh-ut the eartures. & They have levied irregular and unwholesome taxes upon us without our consent, have restricted foreign trade to treaty parts, placed likin embarges upon merchandise in transit; and obstructed internal

... 79 They have repeatedly rejected our most reasonable demands for better government, and have reluctantly conceded pseudo-reforms under most urgent pressure, making promises without intention, of fulfilling them; and obstructing officies towards the nation's elevation. They have failed to appreciate the an-Powers in the process of years, and have brought themselves and our people beneath the contempt of the world. NEW PLEDGES.

To remedy these evils and render posside the entrance of China to the family of nations we have fought and formed our government, and lest our good intentions should be misunderstood we now publicly: and unreservedly declars the following to be our promises :

All treaties entered into by the Manch Government before the date of the Revofution will be continually effective up to all entered into after the commencement of the Revolution will be repudiated.

All foreign loans or indemnities incurred by the Manchu Government before the Revolution will be acknowledged without any alteration of terms; but all payments made to, and loans incurred by the Manchu Government after the commencement of the Revolution will be repudiated. All concessions granted to foreign nations or their nationals by the Manchu

Government before the Revolution will be respected, but any and all granted after the commencement of the Revolution will be repudiated. All persons and property of any foreign nation within the jurisdiction of the Republic of China will be respected and . It will be our constant aim and firm endeavour to build upon a stable and enduring foundation a national structure compatible with the potentialities of our long-neglected country.

We will strive to elevate our people; secure them in peace, and degislate for To those Madohus who abide peacefully within the limits of our jurisdiction we will accord equality and give protection. We will remodel our laws; rovice our civil, criminal, commercial and mining codes; reform our finances; abolisa estrictions on trate and commerce, and ensure religious toleration. The cultivation of better relations with foreign peoples and governments will ever be before us. It is our carnest hope that the foreign nations who have been stendfast in sympathy will bind more firmly the bonds of friendship, that they will bear in patience with us the period of trial confronting us in our reconstructive work, and that they will aid us is the consumination of the far-reaching plans which we are now about to undertake, and which they have so long and so vainly been write this message of perce and goodwill the Republic of China cherishes the hope of being admitted into the family of nathems not merely to barte their rights and privileges, but also to co-operate with them in the great and noble task called for in the upbuilling of the civiliration of the

for it was a muse of the cruption. There was one place as large as a four-shilling piece. without hair and it remained like that for a year. I dult thought her half would never grow again. Having heard a great deal about Cuticura Cintment, I got a tin of it and also a tablet of Cuticura Boap. After After using the three for about three months her sculp was completely cured.

"I had had to cut her hair in great patches before I used the Cutience Remedies, but after a short treatment with them, the hair began to grow, now it is thick and full of rew growth. I only wish I had tried them at first, as they would have saved the child a lot of suffering Lar her head was raw through using insultable ointments." (Signed) Mrs. T.
